MISSION:

The mission of the North Sea Maritime Center at the Historic Tupper Boathouse is to preserve Southampton's maritime heritage through educational and recreational programs that increase the awareness and relevance of historical and contemporary marine activities.

VISION:

The preliminary vision for the North Sea Maritime Center at the Historic Tupper Boathouse will fulfill the mission by establishing the following programs and facilities to benefit our community.

- A wooden boat building facility.
- A Maritime Museum focusing on North Sea, Southampton's first port.
- Classes to teach local maritime history, water navigation, sailing, boating safety, basic boat maintenance and other marine related programs and activities.
- An aquaculture education facility.
- A facility where the Southampton schools and other educational institutions can have field experiences and host marine related programs, events, and workshops

A BRIEF HISTORY:

As early as the 1750s, the proposed site of the North Sea Maritime Center at the Historic Tupper Boathouse was listed as “the boat lot”. The area that includes the Conscience Point Historic Site was owned by the Reeves family for generations. This location on North Sea Harbor provided baymen and pleasure boat owners convenient access to Peconic Bay. In 1928, Ned Tupper purchased the property and built the current structure circa 1932. The family constructed, sold, stored, and repaired wooden boats until the property was sold in 1959. The property became a private marina and the former boathouse building became a series of restaurants and nightclubs until the location was purchased by the Town of Southampton in 2003 and became a public marina and park.

WHAT'S HAPPENING TODAY:

When North Sea residents, with the help of the Southampton Historic and Landmarks Board, sought to save the neglected building, the Town Board designated the Tupper Boathouse historic and obtained initial restoration grant funding. Now plans are underway with the North Sea Maritime Center to identify further funding to restore the building. Additionally, the North Sea Maritime Center will develop community-centered programming that highlights Southampton’s maritime history and culture.
